Speaking Where The Bible Speaks; Silent Where The Bible Is Silent

For Or Against?

Joe Slater

My friend and fellow-preacher Larry Scarth made this insightful statement: “The Christian is the greatest argument either for or against Christianity.” We have not the slightest doubt of the importance of the Bible. We fully appreciate the evidence for Christ from history. The fact remains that few people read and study the Bible regularly, and fewer still acquire accurate information about Jesus from history. Multitudes, however, observe the behavior of people professing to be Christians. The saying is true: you are the first Bible many people will read.

Most often we focus on the negative possibilities. Can a misbehaving Christian distract and discourage non-believers from studying the Scriptures and considering Christianity? Certainly so! Worldly folks may or may not appreciate it when Christians live by God's standards, but they expect it; and they notice when we don't. God hasn't called us to conform to the world, but to be transformed (Romans 12:2).

Christians can be a powerful reason for unbelievers to give Jesus and His gospel a fair hearing. Peter urged his readers to "(have) your conduct honorable among the Gentiles, that when they speak against you as evildoers, they may, by your good works which they observe, glorify God in the day of visitation" (1 Peter 2:12, that is, in the day God visits them with the gospel, see Acts 15:14). Peter appealed to Christian wives to follow this same course with their unbelieving husbands: "Wives, likewise, be submissive to your own husbands, that even if some to not obey the word, they, without a word, may be won by the conduct of their wives, when they observe your chaste conduct accompanied by fear" (1 Peter 3:1-2). A godly example surpasses nagging every time!

Is your life an argument for or against Christianity?

"Uncle Mike's Twelve Step Formula for Folding Fitted Sheets"

Posted by Michael PeckSee

Uncle Mike's Twelve Step Formula for Folding Fitted Sheets

1. Pull miserable fitted sheet out of drier and shake violently to find brown dress sock from previous wash load.
2. With right hand find left hand corner and pull towards your chest.
3. With left hand find grab middle of sheet and pull over your head.
4. With your knees hold onto bottom of sheet.
5. Now twist that wretched sheet in a northeastly direction until the bottom of the sheet pops out from between your knees. Do not become discouraged, you are well on your way to Uncle Mike's finished product.
6. Now, (and this is very important!) with your loudest voice growl with your deepest vocal sounds as you throw the wadded sheet on the floor. It must be thrown with energy. If you wish, you may pick it up and throw it to the floor repeatedly.
7. Leave that fitted sheet on the floor. Walk away. Put on size twelve white sneakers. Tie firmly.
8. Return to wadded fitted sheet on floor.
9. Stomp on silly fitted sheet until flattened.
10. Pick up from floor and place in the back of the closet under towels where no one will see the work of art.
11. Smile at your great accomplishment. At least you have washed that miserable fitted sheet. Some folks leave it on the bed so long that after taking it off, the only remedy is to burn it!
12. Get cup of coffee and thank the Lord for the many friends you have in life and on Facebook who will smile with you and get on with the rest of their day. Oh, and most importantly, don't forget "He it is that does go with you; He will not fail you, nor forsake you" (Deuteronomy 31:6)
